Indian women's cricket team benefitting from sports psychologist's presence in New Zealand: Mithali Raj

New Delhi. India women's ODI skipper Mithali Raj said that the presence of a sports psychologist with the squad in New Zealand helps all players to absorb pressure and deal with pressure-cooker situations. Mithali also pointed out that such professional help is the need of the hour in Covid times. Munda Bavaria is the sports psychologist traveling with the Indian team on a twomonth-long tour of New Zealand comprising a bilateral series and the ODI World Cup. Mithali had earlier also spoken about the need for a psychologist to deal with the pressure of knockout games, but with tours now being played in bubbles, professional help is needed all the more. "In today's times, it is even more important to have them around with the team with the longer duration of tour and quarantine and bubbles," Mithali said on the eve of the opening T20 against New Zealand. "It is an extended tour of two months with the ODI series and the World Cup. It does help to have one on one sessions with a (sports psychologist). "You see things differently and it helps you to understand yourself, to find your ways to deal with pressure and quarantine.

To have somebody is always helpful," she added. The team underwent a 10-day quarantine in Christchurch before traveling to Queenstown. The MIQ in New Zealand was much more comfortable than in Australia, where the players had to live in tiny rooms for 14 days. Asked how she copes in a quarantine, Mithali added: "I read books, try to solve puzzles. Off the field, I try and divert my mind to other things."

New Zealand captain Kane Williamson ruled out of home Test series against South Africa

New Delhi. New Zealand captain Kane Williamson has been ruled out of the twomatch Test series against South Africa later this month after failing to recover in time from a long-standing elbow injury. The strain injury, which can't be corrected by surgery, also caused Williamson to miss New Zealand's recent series against Bangladesh. The retirement of veteran Ross Taylor will leave New Zealand with one of its thinnest batting lineups in recent years, with the bowling allrounder Daryl Mitchell likely to bat as high as No. 5. New Zealand recalled all-rounder Colin de Grandhomme and opener Hamish Rutherford for the first game, while wicketkeeper Cam Fletcher and fast bowler Blair Tickner were given maiden call-ups to the Test side, which will be led by Tom Latham.

'(Kane) was desperate to be fit for the series but with the amount of loading required for test cricket, we had to make the tough call... and focus on returning for the white-ball matches against the Netherlands in March," Kiwi head coach Gary Stead said. Trent Boult will also miss the first Test as he awaits the birth of his third child, while leftarm spinner Ajaz Patel could potentially be in the fray for the second Test. "It's important to remember this squad is just for the first Test, so we do have the flexibility to make changes as required, with the likes of Trent and Ajaz potentially available for the second," added Stead. New Zealand squad for the first Test: Tom Latham (captain), Tom Blundell, Devon Conway, Colin de Grandhomme, Cam Fletcher, Matt Henry, Kyle Jamieson, Daryl Mitchell, Henry Nicholls, Rachin Ravindra, Hamish Rutherford, Tim Southee, Blair Tickner, Neil Wagner, Will Young and social harmony from freedom struggle in school textbooks: Vice President

New Delhi : Vice President The Vice President was M. Venkaiah Naidu today called for honouring unsung national heroes and chronicling anecdotes of their life journeys in an engaging way to inspire school children. He also suggested recounting tales of social harmony from the freedom struggle that reflect India's civilisational values.

Speaking on the importance of teaching history, Naidu said, "We must teach our children the stories of such brave heroes this land has seen. Our glorious history must unshackle our minds of any inferiority complex we may harbour. History can indeed educate, enlighten and emancipate us.'

Naidu expressed concern that "even after we gained independence, a colonial remained in tinge education system." successful implementation of the National Education Policy should remove this, he said.
